Flexible Seating Grants Support Innovation

The Foundation's mission is to support innovative ideas in education. Miss Bellcourt submitted a grant involving flexible seating for her kindergarten classes at Bradt. Research has shown that flexible seating improved children's ability to pay attention and stay focused. When Mrs. Pace saw this seating in use in Miss Bellcourt's class, she felt that it would also benefit her students. The Foundation decided to approve her grant as well to provide a more data to determine the effectiveness of this type of seating. The total award for both grants was $2,800. Pictures and student quotes below:

"Sometimes I pick a seat to use, and I realize it isn't helping my brain or my body so I put it back and find the right one for me!"

"They are more comfortable."

"It has just enough bounce to stay in the green zone but still have fun."

"It helps me focus on my work."

"They help me stay calm."

"Smart spots really help my brain a lot!"

"The stability chairs make me happy."
